New Albany, Ind., March 12, 1867. For forty years I have been afflicted with costiveness, and for the last twenty was com-pelled daily to resort to injections to secure an evacuation. In December last I com-pelled After menced the use of Radway's Pills. After taking a few doses, my liver, stomach, and bowels were restored to their natural strength once a day, and, although 80 years of age, feel as hearty and strong as I did 40 years

HIGH ENDORSEMENT FROM THE MEDICAL COLLEGE OF PRUSSIA.

Is in receipt of an important official docu-ment, signed by the Professors of the Medical College of Breslau, Prussia, embodying the result of an analysis of RADWAY'S REGULATING PILLS. "The Faculty of the College state in their report that after a surfail and minute examination, they have the honor to state that "the pills are not only free from every substance urious to health, but are composed wholly substances and elements promotive of testion, and certain at the same time to act invorably upon the nervous system, &c., of the Liver, and restoring the healthy func-&c. They state, further, that the injurious rumors set affoat by the Prussian apothe-caries originated "in a mean spirit of trade jealousy, excited by the great celebrity at-tained by the Pills within a very brief period."

Signed on behalf of the College, DR. PHIL. THEOBALD WERNER, Director of the Polytechnic Bureau. DR. HESSE, First Assistant, INDICESTION !

In cases where natural evacuations are ifficult to secure, and a quick discharge is sential, take six of Radway's Pills and pulverize them,—take the pill powder in water or preserves,—in half an hour they will operate. We have known the most distres pains of Gastritis, Bilious Cholic, Inflam pains of Gastritis, Bilions Cholic, Inflammation, Congestion, &c., stopped, and the retained irritating humers expelled from the bowels in thirty minutes by this treatment. It is however, better in chronic cases to take the pills as they are, and let them gradually dissolve in the stomach. These Pills possess in the lightest degree cathartic, aperient, tonic, and diapharetic properties. They do do not weaken or debilitate the system or any of its organs, and will leave the bowels regular and healthy. They purify and equalize the circulation of the blood. No congestion or inflammation will occur while the system is under their influence. Price 25 cents per box, or 5 boxes for one dollar. system is under their inhuence. cents per box, or 6 boxes for one dollar.

CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS! THE GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER

The Life of all Flesh is the Blood thereof.' Purify the Blood, and the health of the whole system will follow. It is a Gentle Purgative, as well as a Tonic. These Bitters are not a gilded pill, to de-light the eye or please the fancy, but a Medi-cal Preparation, composed of the Best Vege-table Ingredients known.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood, whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin, in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; Cleanse it when you find it obstructed or sluggish in the Veins; Cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell tell you when. Keep the Blood healthy, and all will be well.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Tightness of the Chest, Coughs, Dirriness, Sour Erneta-tions of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Billious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Infamation of the Lungs, Copious Discharges of Urine, Pain in the Region of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of this Dyspepsia. For these troubles, take Dr. Walker's Vinegar Bitters, and quickly all painful symptoms will disapters. It is a Gentle Purgative.

As well as a Tonic, possessing, also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion, or Inflamation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. In this respect, these Bitters have no equal. For Female Complaints, Whether in the young or old, married or sin-gle, at the dawn of womanhood or the turn of life, these Tenie Bitters display so decided an sence, that a marked improvement is soon eptible in the health of the patient. influence, that a marked im For Inflammatory Rheumatism.

This is the fruitful source of many diseases, such as Tetter or Salt Rheum, Ringworm Bolls, Carbunoles. Sores, Ulcers, Pimples, and Eruptions of all kinds. For the cure of these various affections, which are merely symptoms of a Morbid Condition of the Blood, medical science and skill have not, as yet, discovered a Blood Purifier equal to Walker's Vinegar Bitters. Bitters. Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys, and Bladder. It thoroughly eradicates every kind of humor and bad taint, and restores the entire system to a healthy condition. It is perfectly harmless, never pro-ducing the slightest injury.

Bilious Remittent Fevers, And Intermittent Fevers, which are so preva-lent in the Valleys of the Pacific Coast, during the Summer and Autuum, and especially dur-ing sensons of unusual heat and dryness, are invariably accompanied with extensive de-rangements of the Stomach and Liver, and other abdominal viscera. There are always more or less obstructions of the Liver, a weakmore or less obstructions of the Liver, a weak-ness and firratable state of the Stomach, and great topor of the Bowels, being clogged up with vitlated accumulations. In their treat-ment, a purgative, exerting a powerful influ-ence upon these various organs, is essentially necessary. There is no cathartic for this pur-pose equal to Dr. J. POETRY.

WIFE AND L.

We were out of temper, and scarce knew why, Though the cause was trivial and common; But to look in our eyes you'd have sworn that we both Were a couple of enemies, spiteful and wroth-Not a wedded man and woman.

Wife, like a tragedy queen in a play, Tossed her sweet little head in as lofty a way As so little a woman was able; She clenched her lips with a sneer and a frown, While I, being rougher, stamped up and down, Like a careless groom in a stable.

You'd have thought us the blitterest (essing us then) You'd have laughed at our spite and pas And would never have dreamed that a storm like this Would be rainbow'd to tears by that smalight, a kiss Till we talked in the old fond fashion

Yet the storm was over in less than an hour, And was followed soon by a sunny shower, And that again by embraces; Yet so little the meaning was understood, That we almost felt ashamed to be good, And were a blush on our faces

Then she, as a woman, much braver became, By her kindness, her self-reproving; her seeing her humble, and knowing her true I all at once became humble too, And very contrite and loving.

But seeing I acted a humble part, She laughed outright with a frolic heart-A laugh as careless as Cupid; Till I almost felt in a passion again And became quite stubborn and stupid.

And this was the time for her arms to twin Around this stubborn neck of mine, Like the arms of a maid round a lover; And feeling them there, with their warmth, you k The storm (as I called it) was over

So then we could talk with the power to please; As though the passing of storms' like these Leaves a certain felicity Of getting easily angry again, Yet they free the heart and rebuke the brain, And teach us a rough humility.

You see that we love one another so well, That we find more comfort than you can tell In the fiercer fights of a world so drear We keep our spirits so close and clear,

That we need such trivial quarrels

In the great fierce fights of the world we try id one another, my wife and I, Like the brave strong man and woman But the trivial quarrels of days and nights Unshackle our sonis from the great fierce fight And keep us lowly and human,

Clouds would grow in the quietest mind, And make it unmeet to mix with its kind. Were nature less wise a mother; And with storms like ours there must flutter out From the bosom the hoarded-up darkness and dos The excess of our love for each other.

He scared the possums and he scared the coons, The people all hid their silver spoons; The children screamed, the women ran, For all were frightened by the rat-trap man-The rat-trap man.

The trap he carried was a mighty load, But he whistled a tune as he trod the road; With a villainous eye he seemed to scan Each face he met, did the rat-trap man The rat-trap man He lived many years and sold his traps,

And saved up a dollar or two, perhaps, But wild and wicked was the race he ran, And nobody cares for the rat-trap man-The rat-trap man. No friends will cheer him when he comes to die

PUNCH ON THE ALABAMA MATTER.-Mr. Punch, like the other London editors, must occupy himself with Mr. Sumner's speech, but his language is more good natured and sensible than theirs.—[Am.

"Mr. Golding Smith writes from Boston to Mr. Potter, editor of the Beshive, to say that emigration to the United States had better not be thought of for the present. Mr. Sumner having roused so bad a feeling against England. He thinks there will be no rupture, but is 'prepared for a turn of affairs which will oblige the Eng-lish to leave the States' Mr. Punch de-clines to prepare himself for anything of the sort, and unless the two foremost nations of the world are mad, he believes the re-publication of the 'Sumner's Tale,' by ne G. Chaucer, would be as likely to produce war as the Munchausen manif-his friend Charles, with whom, mor he intends to have a word, shortly. "PERMISSION FROM THE OFFICE."—An amusing incident, too good to be lost, occurred at the Nicolict a day or two since. A verdant couple from the vicinity of Winona, who had never travelled outside of the limits of their little native town, fell in love, were married, and on their bridal tour visited Minneapolis. Arriving on the evening train, the turtle doves took room at the Nicoliet. Before making his tollet the next morning, the young husband's eye rested upon the "rules and regulations" tacked upon the door, and for the purpose of posting himself in the requirements of hotel life, he proceeded to read them. Judge of his surprise, when, after careful study, he learned that "washing in rooms is prohibited, except permission is obtained at the office! The young man looked about him. Upon the opposite side of the room were washowl, pitcher, towels, and all the necessaries for performing the usual abutions, but before his face and eyes was the rule "prohibiting washing in the room!" What was to he "PERMISSION FROM THE OFFICE."-An for performing the usual ablutions, but before his face and eyes was the rule "probabling washing in the room!" What was to be done? Bride and groom were at a loss to know. They certainly could not think of going to breakfast without a washing, and it was rather inconvenient to go to the river for that purpose. As he reflected upon the awk wardness of the situation, he became impressed with the idea that something must be done, and remembering the solemu promise made to the Justlen of the Peace who, for the trifling sum of seventy-five cents, united them in the holy bands of matrimony the day previous, he determined to rise up in his strength and represent the case in proper terms "at the office." He did so. Approaching the desk, he beckoned to the clerk: "Look a here!" said he, "that 'ere kaird that's stuck on to the door says that nobody can't wash in the room 'less you let 'em. Me and Jane Anu washed our faces and hands there this mornin'? The elerk kindly gave his consent, and the unsophisticated couple were made happy.—

DIDN'T SEE HIM.-The following has appeared in print before, but those who have seen it can afford to laugh over it again, and hundreds who have not seen it ought not to miss it.

About ten years ago a young man of very good character hired a horse from a livery stable, to ride out to a little town about twenty miles distant. Unfortunately, about half way out the horse was laken sick and died. The livery man sued him for the value of the horse, representing that the animal had been killed by fast riding. One of the young man's witnesses (rather green, or supposed to be, and who had a peculiar way of talking very slow) was called to the stand and questioned thus by the prosecutor:

"Are you acquainted with the prisoner at the bar?"

"Ya-a-s" (very slowly drawn out.)
"How long have you been acquainted with him?"

with him?"

"About two years."

"Well, sir, please state to the Court what kind of a reputation be bears as regards to fast or slow riding on horse-back."

"W.a.a.l, I suppose if be was riding with a company of persons who was a riding very fast, and he didn't want to be left behind, he would ride fast too. And if he was riding with company that rode year alow, and he with company that rode year alow, and he with company that rode very slow, and he did not want to go ahead alone, I suppose he would ride slow too."

he would ride slow too."

Judge (very much enraged)—"You seem very much inclined to evade answering questions properly. Now, sir, you have stated how the gentleman rides when he is in fast company and how he rides when he is in slow company. Now, sir, I wish you to state to the Court how the gentleman rides when he rides alone."

rides alone."
"W.a.a., I having never had the pleasure of riding with him when he was alone, I don't think I can tell the Court."

Doing Good.—In Paris, General Cluseret, returning home alone late one evening, was attacked by an armed brigand. The great strength of the general rendered him indifferent to such incidents; he seized the rufflan by the throat, and threatend to strangle him. On examining the captive more closely, Cluseret recognized him as a personage with whom he had already had dealings. "Why, you rascal, you are the same man who robbed my tent in Algeria of five hundred francs in gold!" "Ah, General, but if you knew the circumstances. They had written to me that my mother was dangerously ill, and I wanted to send her some assistance. But I entreat you, General, to have some pity on me; give me my liberty this time, and I swear to pass my life in repentance." The General granted the prayer, let the fellow go, and thought no more about the matter. A long time afterwards, he received a box containing five hundred francs and the following letter: "This restitution, General, proves to you that a good action is never lost. To procure this sum that I engaged myself to retter: "Inis restitution, General, proves to you that a good action is never lost. To procure this sum that I engaged myself to return to you, I have been obliged to beat out the brains of two men, to force three secretaires, and break in the doors of three inhabited country houses. You see, General, that a benefit is never thrown away."

The following dialogue lately occurred be tween a mistress of one of the schools and a scholar: "James, if you take three from five how many remain?"

"James, if you take three from five how many remain?"

"I don't know mum," replied the boy, biting his thamb nail.

"Not know! if five birds were singing on a tree, and a maghty boy should have a gun and kill three, how many would be left?"

"None," was the prompt reply.

"Why, yes, there would be some sleft wouldn't there!"

"No, there wouldn't cause the others would.

" No, there, wouldn't, cause the others would fly away."
"My son, hold up your head and tell me who

MEAN MEN.—Henry Ward Beecher says of mean men: "I have great hope of a wicked man; slender hope of a mean one. A wicked of man slender hope of a mean one. A wicked of man may be converted and become a prominent saint. A mean man ought to be converted six or seven times, one right after the other, to give him a fair start, and put him on an equality with a bold, wicked man. I have known men who thought the object of conversion was to cleame them as a garment is cleansed, and then when they are converted they are to be hung up in the Lord's wardrobe, the door of which was to be shut, so that'no dust could get at them. A cost that is not used, the moths eat; and a Christian who is hung up so that he shall not be tempted, the moths eat him; and they have speed food at that!"
